LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS AND TERMS USED IN JDH'S SHEET MUSIC CDs and their LISTS

(Abbreviated instrumental terms that are inside single or double quotes, e.g., 'vn or va, & vc', denote a POSSIBLE instrumentation, not the original instrumentation.)

VN or VLN = violin (Plural: vns)

VA or VLA = viola (Plural: vas)

VC or VLC = cello (Plural: vcs)

VC-BC = cello playing a BC line (called a 'continuo cello').

BC = basso continuo, or 'continuo' (a bass--lowest--line played by a cello and a KBD, with figures (sometimes absent) that indicate to the keyboardist the well-voiced ("well-counterpointed") 'harmonization' to be played by the right hand).

BC realized = a KBD part with an arranger's 'harmonization' of the BC printed in the treble (right hand) of the kbd score.

KBD = one or more of several keyboard instruments like the cembalo (harpsichord), organ, clavichord, or even the early piano.

PF = piano, pianoforte, fortepiano.

Basso = Cello, in chamber music if there is not a separate staff for cello.

Basso= Cello and Double Bass, in orchestral music if there is not a separate staff for cello.

OB = oboe

BSN = bassoon

FL = flute

CL = clarinet

DB = double bass

Op = opus

Arr = arranged for, or by (an arrangement SHOULD mean a significant modification/addition of many elements to the original piece)

Transc = transcribed for (in America, meaning little more than a key-change and/or octave transposition)

Ed = edited, editor

pd = public domain

(Almost all files are duplex, without them being so described.)

In SOME cases the page layout has been modified ('REPAGED') from the original:

- 1) A blank page is removed or inserted to change the way pages flow to improve page turns.
- 2) Some staves may be 'reflowed' for the same purpose.

FOLDER 12: LISTS and other files

LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS AND TERMS USED IN SHEET MUSIC CDs and their LISTS

(Abbreviated instrumental terms that are inside single or double quotes, e.g., 'vn or va, & vc', denote a POSSIBLE instrumentation, not the original instrumentation.)

VN or VLN = violin (Plural: vns)

VA or VLA = viola (Plural: vas)

VC or VLC = cello (Plural: vcs)

VC-BC = cello playing a BC line (called a 'continuo cello').

BC = basso continuo, or 'continuo' (a bass--lowest--line played by a cello and a KBD, with figures (sometimes absent) that indicate to the keyboardist the well-voiced ("well-counterpointed") 'harmonization' to be played by the right hand).

BC realized = a KBD part with an arranger's 'harmonization' of the BC printed in the treble (right hand) of the kbd score.

KBD = one or more of several keyboard instruments like the cembalo (harpsichord), organ, clavichord, or even the early piano.

PF = piano, pianoforte, fortepiano.

Basso = Cello, in chamber music if there is not a separate staff for cello.

Basso= Cello and Double Bass, in orchestral music if there is not a separate staff for cello.

OB = oboe

BSN = bassoon

FL = flute

CL = clarinet

DB = double bass

Op = opus

Arr = arranged for, or by (an arrangement SHOULD mean a significant modification/addition of many elements to the original piece)

Transc = transcribed for (in America, meaning little more than a key-change and/or octave transposition)

Ed = edited, editor

pd = public domain

(Almost all files are duplex, without them being so described.)

In SOME cases the page layout has been modified ('REPAGED') from the original:

1) A blank page is removed or inserted to change the way pages flow to improve page turns.

2) Some staves may be 'reflowed' for the same purpose.
